The HWID Changer will spoof your motherboard, system and hard drive and ID..Q: Cordova: reload automatically on plugin change I'm using the PhoneGap / Cordova / Android way to develop an application. Each plugin I use

I include in the config.xml: This works fine and makes it super easy to do "online" updates and new releases of the plugins I use. The thing is that the battery plugin uses polling to know if the device battery is charging or discharging. If the battery is fully charged, the plugin doesn't update until the battery discharges to 100%.

What I need to do is to update the plugin when the battery status changes - whenever the battery discharges or charges, the battery plugin needs to be refreshed. Basically, I would love my app to be always "up to date" with any plugin changes - even though the plugin is still installed and working fine. Is there any plugin or sample code that can help me? Thanks. A:
